

ABOUT LEAH

Leah Ansel's background spans more than twenty years experience encompassing art, architecture, interiors, feng shui, fashion and jewelry design. The daughter of an artist mother and businessman father, Leah's life and work blends the worlds of her upbringing into a passion for beauty, creativity and entrepreneurship.

Through Space Planning Technologies, Leah brings her talent, enthusiasm and expertise to create personalized design solutions for every client. She incorporates the principles of feng shui into each project, creating environments that are practical, comfortable and harmonious.

Leah's professional affiliations include ASID and Architects for Hospitality. She has been a guest speaker at Yale University, FIT and the NY School of Interior Design. She leads workshops and seminars at the 92nd Street Y/Makor and many designer showrooms in New York City.

More on Leah's experience, clients and press is at her website:
www.spaceplanningtech.com

SPACE PLANNING TECHNOLOGIES

Founded on the feng shui principle that our spaces reflect our lives, Space Planning Technologies provides solutions for commercial, residential and hospitality environments to promote balance, order and beauty. Our services include:

Space Planning

Leah will design a unique layout for every room and give your space a balance of functionality and comfort. Once transformed, your space will take on a renewed energy that increases efficiency and reduces stress.

Interior Decorating

From simple makeovers to complete renovations, Leah will ensure you achieve the look that reflects your personality and style. With a space that's definitively your own, you will experience a greater sense of peace in your life and work.

Kitchen and Bath Design

Based on your specifications, cluttered kitchens and cramped baths will be wholly redesigned. Built to emphasize practicality and beauty, your new kitchen and bath will be a safer, more comfortable environment that benefits your health and wellness.

Custom Closets and Storage

Leah will assess your needs and design, create and organize your personalized storage solution. Whether you desire your own dream closet or a desk custom-built for you, every available square inch will be utilized to create a solution that maximizes functionality and fulfills your every wish.

Feng Shui Consultation

An ancient art and science renowned for its positive effects on health, peace and prosperity, feng shui can reinvigorate any work or living space. Schedule a seminar, consultation or in home demonstration to discover how the positive and negative energies within our environments affect our lives and the ways feng shui can balance these energies to the benefit of your health and happiness.

Go to www.spaceplanningtech.com for more on how Leah and Space Planning Technologies can transform your living and working environments. For a complimentary phone consultation, fill out the questionnaire at right and mail to the address provided.